

Emerging Palliative Issues: American Indians/Alaska Natives

Co-sponsored by OUHSC
College of Medicine • College of Nursing

Webcast brought to you by the Oklahoma Geriatric Education Center

SPEAKER: Judith A. Kitzes, MD, MPH

Associate Professor and Director of Palliative Care Section, Division of Geriatrics, Department of Internal Medicine; Curriculum Director for the School of Medicine BA/MD Program, University of New Mexico.

Dr. Kitzes received her medical degree from Medical College of Pennsylvania and Masters of Public Health from Harvard University School of Public Health. Dr. Kitzes also received Palliative Care training through Oxford International Centre for Palliative Care in Oxford, England under the tutelage of Dr. Robert Twycross and is board certified in the American Board of Hospice and Palliative Medicine, and Public Health and Preventive Medicine.

Dr. Kitzes is an editor of the textbook Hospice and Palliative Care, Concepts and Principles, Second Edition, Jones and Bartlett Publishers, 2003 and has authored articles and book chapters relevant to palliative care issues in American/Alaska Native communities.

DATE: Wednesday, April 16, 2008

TIME: 12:15 – 1:15 PM CST

LINK: ① Browse to www.ouhsc.edu/okgec
② Click on “Grand Rounds”
③ Select Dr. Kitzes’ presentation

Grand Rounds presentations may be accessed at any time from our archives at www.ouhsc.edu/okgec - click on the date of the presentation.

Please take a few moments to complete the survey and evaluation at the end of the presentation so we can document your participation. Thank you.

If you have any questions or would like a CD of this webcast, contact Sheryl Mapes: sheryl-mapes@ouhsc.edu or Stacy Ogbeide: stacy-ogbeide@ouhsc.edu