

The Role of Standardized Patients in the Teaching and Evaluation of Clinical Skills

Friday, June 17, 2005 with Sheila M. Crow, M.A., College of Medicine, Office of Educational Development & Support

Description: The purpose of this session is to introduce the use of standardized patients (SPs) for teaching and evaluating learners in the health professions. The overall goal of the session is to provide a broad understanding of how SPs can be used to teach and / or assess communication skills, complete or partial physical examinations, or patient education and counseling skills.

Learning Objectives

- Discuss the use of Standardized Patients in clinical education
- Describe the educational value of Standardized Patients
- Describe case development process
- Describe the training of the Standardized Patients

