

Team-Based Learning: An Instructional Strategy for Teaching an Endocrine Module for Third Year Pharmacy Students Across Two Campuses

Friday, January 20, 2006 with Nancy Letassy, Pharm.D., College of Pharmacy

Description: Team based learning has many potential applications. This session will offer participants ways to:

- Review the key principles of team-based learning (TBL).
- Describe how these principles were implemented in a five-week endocrine course.
- Discuss the strengths and weaknesses of TBL for this course.
- Discuss the challenges of using this instructional strategy across two campuses.
- Compare the course outcomes when using a TBL versus a lecture-based format.
