Content Curation: What do I do with all this information?

Tuesday, April 14, 2015, with Kristy Burrough, eLearning Manager, Academic Technology and P.J. Siharath, Instructional Technologist, Academic Technology

Learning Objectives:

1. Define Curation
2. Explain current information trends
3. Discuss curation for professional development
4. Identify tools used for curation

Search Tools:

- Search current website – Control + F (PC) or Command + F (Mac)
- Google Books – books.google.com
- Google Scholar – scholar.google.com
- Image Search – images.google.com
- Twitter Search – search.twitter.com

Bookmarking Tools:

- Diigo – www.diigo.com
- Symbaloo – www.symbalooEDU.com

Ways to use Diigo:

1. Read more effectively with annotation tools
2. Build your personal library in the cloud
3. Say goodbye to broken links and lost treasures
4. Provide feedback and catch attention with annotation or screenshots
5. Organize your information as little or as much as you want
6. Share information as much or as little as you want
7. Enable better collaboration on information for any group

Ways to use Symbaloo:

1. Visually bookmark and share websites
2. Create a personal learning environment
3. RSS aggregator
4. Access using your computer, Apple device, or Android device
5. Webmixes provide the ability to browse by themes
6. Choose to make your webmix private or collaborate with others
