

Preparing for Promotion as a Health Professions Educator

Valerie N. Williams, Ph.D., University of Oklahoma Presidential Professor and Vice Provost for Academic Affairs and Faculty Development, University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center.

Learning Objectives

1. List expectations for clinician-educator academic advancement
2. Describe teaching documentation
 - I. Curriculum Vitae
 - II. Promotion (“P&T”) dossier instructions
3. Discuss evidence of “teaching excellence” in promotion dossier narrative

Presenter Bio:

Valerie N. Williams, Ph.D., is a University of Oklahoma Presidential Professor in the Graduate College and Vice Provost for Academic Affairs and Faculty Development at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center (OUHSC). In this role, she has responsibility for campus-wide academic affairs, academic integrity and faculty development issues. Williams created the OU Health Sciences Center Faculty Leadership Program for interprofessional faculty development and mentoring. Dr. Williams has served as a mentor or coach for over 1000 faculty during her career. Dr. Williams founded and directs the federally designated University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities for Oklahoma and is Co-Director/Co-PI of the Education and Mentoring KCA [Key Component Activity] for the Oklahoma Shared Clinical and Translational Resources Center. Dr. Williams’ Bachelor of Science from Syracuse University is in biology and psychology (major: genetics). Her Master’s Degree is in Public Administration from the Maxwell School at SU, and her doctorate is in Allied Health Sciences from the OUHSC Graduate College. She is a lifetime member of the Alpha Phi Omega service organization, which she pledged while at Syracuse University.

Notes: